

Himeji Leather Pouch - Yellow

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-049

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Himeji Leather Pouch - Pink

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-050

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Himeji Leather Pouch - Blue

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-052

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Himeji Leather Pouch - Gray

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-053

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Himeji Leather Pouch - Green

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-051

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Magewappa Embroidery Hoop Toolbox - Green & Blue 15cm.

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH 45-074

A "Magewappa" (box made by bending wood) and "Embroidery Hoop" bent and made by hand one by one out of thinly-shaved Japanese cedar and hinoki cypress. The handicraft of the artisan, pliability of the wood, and perfectly straight wood grain together make for a beautiful wooden curve. Cohana has combined this "Magewappa" and "Embroidery Hoop" together to form a beautiful wood grain toolbox. The item includes removable partitions so that the owner may divide the box as they wish for their desired uses. The lid displays a cross-stitch which gives the item the warmth of a human touch, and a real, usable embroidery hoop is included as well. The embroidery hoop can also be used as a frame for interior decorating. The "Magewappas" were created by MOCKATS, an artisan who converted to a "wappa" craftsman from a furniture craftsman in order to spread the word of the high quality of Tottori Prefecture's Chizu cedar to the entire country. They studied under a teacher from the birthplace of the "Magewappa" craft, Akita Prefecture, and maintain a reliable quality as they demonstrate this craft to its fullest extent.

Product size: 16,5 cm x 15,6 cm x 6 cm

Price: € 195.20 (incl. VAT)

Magewappa Embroidery Hoop Toolbox - Yellow & Pink 12cm.

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH-45-071

A "Magewappa" (box made by bending wood) and "Embroidery Hoop" bent and made by hand one by one out of thinly-shaved Japanese cedar and hinoki cypress. The handicraft of the artisan, pliability of the wood, and perfectly straight wood grain together make for a beautiful wooden curve. Cohana has combined this "Magewappa" and "Embroidery Hoop" together to form a beautiful wood grain toolbox. The item includes removable partitions so that the owner may divide the box as they wish for their desired uses. The lid displays a cross-stitch which gives the item the warmth of a human touch, and a real, usable embroidery hoop is included as well. The embroidery hoop can also be used as a frame for interior decorating. The "Magewappas" were created by MOCKATS, an artisan who converted to a "wappa" craftsman from a furniture craftsman in order to spread the word of the high quality of Tottori Prefecture's Chizu cedar to the entire country. They studied under a teacher from the birthplace of the "Magewappa" craft, Akita Prefecture, and maintain a reliable quality as they demonstrate this craft to its fullest extent.

Product size: 13,6 cm x 12,7 cm x 8,5 cm

Price: € 195.20 (incl. VAT)

Himeji Leather Pouch - Winter Gold

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-171

Limited Edition

Himeji white leather is also called Shironameshi that is good for people and the environment, tanned only with the use of ingredients provided by nature, and no chemicals. Leather tanned this way is given a beautiful white finish with a fine texture. The white leather can then be dyed with beautiful colors, and this is what sets shironameshi leather apart. Yoshikawa Leather, which was established in Tatsuno, Hyogo Prefecture in 1955 and specializes in white leather, is a tannery* that began by making white leather for volleyballs. With a belief in making leather without regrets, Yoshikawa Leather produces beautiful leather, which is then dyed in striking Cohana colors.

These leather pouches will ease their way into your heart, with a charm that grows the more you use them. Reminiscent of plump flower buds, their shape spreads out like a flower in bloom when you loosen the string, allowing you to use these pouches as accessory cases. Their size (85 mm. x 50 mm.) makes them perfect for holding sewing tools and accessories, and convenient for carrying. *A tannery is a workshop where craftspeople process animal hides (skins) into leather, which can then be used as a material

Price: € 63.55 (incl. VAT)

Sewing set - Natural

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-176

An elegant and practical sewing kit that is a true must-have for all fans of the Cohana brand. It contains a pair of Seki Mini Scissors, one Sewing Needle Set for Light/Medium-Weight Cloth and one Wooden Thread Winder (White) all inside a stunning pouch in a delicate natural shade of beige that you can carry with you at all times. Now you can be stylish and classy even while mending some old socks!

Price: € 70.13 (incl. VAT)

Sewing set - Dark Grey

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH45-177

An elegant and practical sewing kit that is a true must-have for all fans of the Cohana brand. It contains a pair of Seki Mini Scissors, one Sewing Needle Set for Light/Medium-Weight Cloth and one Wooden Thread Winder (White) all inside a stunning pouch in a delicate natural shade of beige that you can carry with you at all times. Now you can be stylish and classy even while mending some old socks!

Price: € 70.13 (incl. VAT)

Hexagonal Temari Box and Sakura-dyed Yarn

da: Cohana

Modello: KITMIL-COH-45-201

The Hexagonal Temari Box is made of high quality mountain cherry from the Tohoku region. The smooth texture and beautiful grain of the wood enhance the cuteness of the tamari ball, which decorates the top of the box. It can be enjoyed as a small sewing box with Cohana's small sewing tools, also as an accessory box or as an interior decoration.

The Temari ball is decorated with the Japanese traditional cherry blossom pattern called SAKURA-kagari.

The yarn, in a limited color only for this set, is made from pure cotton and specially dyed with real fallen cherry leaves and can be used for Temari, Sashiko, embroidery, darning and many other crafts.

Diameter: 9cm

Height 7,3cm (Box 5cm + Temari Ball 2,3cm)

Sakura-dyed Yarn Length 140m

Price: € 113.37 (incl. VAT)