Summer in my Garden (MD50)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF00-1304

"I suspect that my neighbors laugh at my gardening outfits--I really do wear pretty hats and flowing skirts to dig in the dirt! I just can't bear to wear ugly old clothes amidst all that beauty. And I don't know about you, but I like a very orderly garden, full of old-fashioned flowers in cool shades of pink and white. I especially love anything I can cut to enjoy inside. If it doesn't flower, I don't grow it!"

"I'm not a very patient person," says Nora, "but gardening is teaching me to be. I've learned that something tiny and fragile holds the promise of becoming something bold and beautiful, if I only water and wait for it. What I haven't learned is to not go barefoot outside way too early and freeze my feet! It's nature's way of reminding me why shoes were invented, I guess."

July's Amethyst Fairy (MD59)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF01-1629

Fourth in Nora Corbett's "Year of the Fairies" Collection, July's Amethyst Fairy captures a radiant fairy mere moments before she is to meet with her long-awaited fairy prince. Because even enchanted glens get warm in July, her shadow-hued gown is off-the-shoulder satin, accented with precious gems the color of the midsummer sky. Her bouquet? Rarest lavender roses. And behind her, airy wings flutter majestically, shimmering with violet amethysts - amethysts as perfect as this moment.

Christmas Wishes (MD61)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF01-2456

Dear Stitcher,
My new design is of a boy and girl sitting on Santa's lap and telling him their hopes and dreams. Santa is on a throne and cloaked in festive red and gold. There is much evergreen garland that softly twinkles and intricate beading on the columns. I hope your Holiday season is filled with the peace and joy that I tried to convey in this pattern. ~Nora

Deco Spirits (MD19)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF96-492

If you've come to expect anything from Nora Corbett, it's the unusual and unexpected, and her new "Deco Spirits" continues that tradition. Inspired by art deco architecture, the four spirits represent the elements of earth, fire, water, and air. Each features muted metallics in shades of seafoam, periwinkle, gold, and aubergine. Because they can be stitched and framed together or individually, "Deco Spirits" is the perfect choice for beginners or advanced stitchers, or anyone who appreciates a fresh, innovative design.

Giggles In The Snow (MD31)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF97-2061

As much of a giggle to stitch as it is to give, this newest design by Nora Corbett for Mirabilia is an ode to those euphoric winter days when children dress themselves in layer upon crazy-quilt layer, pull on mommy-made mittens and scarves, and flaunt collars and cuffs embroidered by doting aunts and grandmas. Stitch the little boy, the little girl, or stitch them both to hang together. Whichever you choose, it's certain that the one having the most fun in the crystal-beaded snow will be you!

Each design's area has a stitch count of 130 x 150. Design Size 21cm. x 24cm. when worked on 32 count linen (2 over 2).

Arezzo 2014

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHCEN-AREZZO2014DD

Arezzo 2014 - Digital Delivery Pattern
The only chart version of the lovely picture made by Nora Corbett for our eight Festa del Ricamo.

Note: No claims and/or complaints or refund requests will be accepted after purchasing and downloading this digital pattern! This pattern is not charted with a computer. It is in the original hand writing of Nora and as it often happens in the making of little amazing hand-made artworks who had such few time for their realization (just like Nora Corbett had for creating this wonderful gift to all of us), a few slight imperfections might be present, and that, we are sure, will contribute into making this chart even more unique and precious!

1) the thread corresponding to the fully black square symbol (which, in the chart is, in the hair for example) is DMC 3371;
2) the first symbol of the list (a fully black triangle with right-angle down right) does not correspond to DMC 3371, but to DMC 3021; 3) in the chart key, DMC 165 and 211 both correspond to the same symbol: just remember that thread 165 is only used for the leaves while thread 211 is only used for the roses at the bottom of the chart.

The Snow Queen (MD143)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF16-1207

Nora Corbett: "This floss woven woman was inspired by winter storms and Danish fairy tales I read when I was a little girl. Patterns of beads and sparkling stars adorn her heavy cloak. Her companion is equally adorned in festive winter swirls and dripping crystal beads. I love the moments after the strong beautiful storms when everything is pure and silent. I imagine this is why they name the storms after women."

Andromeda (MD149)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF17-1284

This design is inspired by the Greek myth of Andromeda and the constellation named for her. Like Cassiopeia MD131, there are stitches of special floss that glow in the dark to represent the constellation within the design. Hers is a dramatic story of monsters and chains and rescue and stellar beauty. She is forever in the stars.

Zelda (MD161)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF19-1000

The fascinating Zelda Fitzgerald is the muse and inspiration for this pattern. She was glamorous and sophisticated and known to have had "so many feelings". The paradise garden on her gown is covered in black onyx beads and dark wandering vines representing the tragedy that crept into her life.

Her wild life was full of light and dark but she lived fiercely, creatively and with passion.

Miss Winter has her graceful snow laced trees. She has her powerful storms. She forces us inward to nest and contemplate the darkness. da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF19-2251

In a secret garden hidden in the Metropolitan Museum Cloisters, the lovely Elizabeth performs a piece to enchant the blooms - a dreamy sweet melody to gently coax the spring blossoms. The allium and tulips sway in a trance. Bees and butterflies dance with the exquisite vibrations of the strings radiating the air.

The Baker's Wife (MD166)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF19-2548

Not all that is sweet is good. The same can be said of the unassuming wife of the palace baker. But when luxury becomes intoxicating, the only way to have fun is to swap the sugar for salt and watch as the faces of the dukes turn from pompous to sour. This trickster lives among courtyards and cloisters, but always as the handmaiden or the seamstress. Always, that is, until she dons the disguise of the mysterious Duchess of Rouen.

Lilith of Labrador (MD167)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF19-2874

Design by Nora Corbett

Stitch Count: 161 x 234

From Newfoundland to Nantucket, she is the icy sea of Labrador and all of its currents. Like any fish, and like some people, where she lives depends on the season. In winter months, she swims south from the arctic, bringing with her a tremendous wave of cold. Yet her sister's northerly currents mean she will never make it further south than the small fishing village of Monhegan, Maine. You can see her in winter sitting on the southern rocks, watching as the waves block her off from the world.

The Duchess of Rouen (MD168)

da: Mirabilia Design - Nora Corbett

Modello: SCHHOF20-1456

Design by Nora Corbett

Stitch Count: 152 x 201

Masquerade is something that this Duchess has become used to. Her only reason to enter the foray of bumbling oafs and pretensions is to make use of it as a wonderful distraction. As the harpsichord plucks a melody, the Duchess of Rouen finds her way into the Empress's secret butterfly garden yet again. She's captivated by the humble beginnings of the lavender-winged beauties. The flowers smell of the country and home. They nearly drown out the waltzing of the perfumed masses just beyond the door.
